Louisville, Jan. 27, 1851. The Lightning Conductors on the plan of J. Spratt, of Cincinnati, appear to be very well devised, and in point of much oried construction, are the best I have ever score.

It is to be hoped that the use of there rods may become general as an important auxiliary defence against a danger, which must be regarded as of our ordinary magnitude, to which all buildings are liable.

Prof. of Chem. in the Univ. of Louisville:

This will certify that I have examined the Lightning Rods, Metallic Points, and Insulating Attachment, annulationally Mr. Spratt, of Gueinmatt, Ohio, and regard them as constructed in conformity to the general laws of the electric fluid; and the Gilded Copper Branched Points, as promising, from the greatls of several tests to which they were automated, to resist for years the action of those atmospheric causes must likely to currode them.

The Regulator is small, simple, easil, applied; when once adjusted, requires no turther attention. The disagreeable effect of Gas upon the complexion is almost entirely obviated by the use of the Regulator. The light being more agreeable in color and less injurious to the race. The unhealthy consequences resulting hom the evenue of unconsumed gas are also remedied, besides a great saving is effected by its use, not entire for the intense pressure from the arrest, but also when part of the lights in the round are extinguished the pressure measurally accessing on those still burning, so that a large portion of thin gas escaping unburned, and is of course wasterd.

GENERAL ASSEMBLY. SENATOR: GEORGE W. TAYLOR. Representatives: HENRY Y. CRANSTON, SETH BATEMAN. WILLIAM MESSER, SAMUEL BROWN, JAMES HORSWELL.

Br Again we urge upon our Whig friends to be true to their party and those principles which they have so long advocated and sustained by their votes, and to rally at the polls on Wednesday in the discharge of their high, sacred and imperative duty as American, freemen. Go there like men bound by no secret oaths, and under no dark and terrible obligations, and vote freely and openly like intelligent men who contend for principles, and who are not swerved from the path of rectitude by the prospeet of the temporary triumph of a secret combination. Let up man neglect to vote because he thinks that the Know Nothings will triumpli at this election; but go to the ballot box and deposite your vote just as if you were positive that the Whig party would succeed. The Know Nothings are split and divided among themselves; many of them will not vote, and no one can cor. the election is over, however it may be decided, every Whig will feel much better with himself, and he will be far more satisfied with his conduct, if he has the con sciousness that he has been true and faithful to those principles which, through long series of years he has contended for t an he will if he neglects to vote, merely because he may feel that there is no pros. pact of success. Secret political organizations are anti-Republican, and in all respects contrary to the fundamental principlus upon which the U.S. government is founded, and are extremely dangerous a far as the freedom of thought and the liberties of the people are concerned. The Know Nothings profess to fear the influonce of the Jesuits, because they are a seerct order; and yet these very men are banded under the same secret obligations which they complain of. Oh, consistency, what a precious jewel thou art! Away with such nonscuse. Cave us liberty, give us wholesome principles boldly announced and openly and gallantly defended. We can nicet a frank and candid opponent, and discuss matters of great moment and im portance upon which we differ, and adjushese differences quietly and peaceably at ballot box will virtue and conservatism enough in the American people to sustain the decision of the majority. But who can meet a secret political foe, who can contend with a combination of men who make known no principle of action except that they are opposed to granting the elective franchise to foreigners? This is a matter of sterling importance to the people of this State; and the neculiar condition of things require that every true man should go to the polls and sustain the purty with which for so many years he has been allied. There is manly and honorable courage in an open contest -but there is sneaking and disgraceful cowardice in a secret political welfare,

IF At the request of a large number of Whige, we placed at the head of our columns this morning the Whig Assembly ticket, which we are confident will ment he entire approbation of all true Whigs.

The Know Nothings of the several Wards held a general meeting, Saturmy evening at the Hall of the Occon House, and nominated the following candidates for the General Assembly :-

JOSEPH ANTHONY. REPRESENTATIVES: GEORGE B. KNOWLES, JOHN C. ALLMAN, SAMUEL C. BAILEY. . . . ! CLARKE BURDICK, JOHN PRATT.

By Clothes Line Telegraph expressly to the Daily News. ;

Grand Meeting of the Know-Nothing Councils! Bediam Broke Lose!! Everything in Confusion !!!! Cursing and Sweating!!!! Almost a Fight, and only prevented by a want of Courage on the part of one of the factions!!!

On Saturday the Clothes line telegraph was in splendid working order; during the day we received, a despatch announcing that a general meeting of the Know Nothings was to be hold in the evening, at the Hall of the Ocean House, for the purpose of agreeing upon candidates for members of the Assembly. We immediately made the most ample arrangements for a full report of the proceedings, and at the proper time despatched our unrivalled army of reporters in various directions for the purpose of gathering information. We were also on the spot. The faithful were seen on the different streets, wonding their way to the Hall. All did not know where the meeting was to be held; some went to the old Distillery, some to Bellevue Hall, and others to Ocean Hall. Various despatches passed between the e localities, and finally Sam's troops to the number of about 150 assembled at Ocean Hall. Now let us take a look at the inside of the Hall; there were black spirits and white, blue spirits and grey. A stranger combination of men was never soun; and the only ism that was not represented was Americanism; each had their hobby, but Maine Law was on the lead. A worse feeling never prevailed on any occasion, in regard to any matter, than existed on that evening. The brotherhood manifested a strong desire to cut each others' throats; the presiding officer frequently bawled, "order", "order" but it was like calling spirits from the vasty deep, for order would not be restored. We, in company with four friends, walked to the outside door, and one of the number asked of the brother Guardian if there was a Whig meeting up stairs; he replied that he did not know of any political meeting. A few more words were exchange-Brother Thomas C. Muniord and several others passed in, and announced that the council was about to be stormed by the Daily News office gang, assisted by the operators of the clothes line telegraph .-To the rescue' was echoed through the hall, The hisses, and growns of the brotherhood were drowned by the rapid tramping of the feet of the faithful coming down stairs .-The door was opened, and out came about 50 stalwart Sams. Brother John Eldred headed the gang, and carried an immense bludgeon; then there was brother John Greene, and brother George Thurston, and brother Isaac B. Howland, and various other brothers, who strolled around for a short time, and then returned to the ark, after having made diligent search, and finding no one disposed to disturb the peace and harmony of the meeting. The stair-ways were crowded with less gallant men who did not care to venture out, fearing that there might possibly be an enemy outside to encounter. The meeting continued until a lace hour; various propositions were made, and a ballot was called for, but it was refused. All was the wildest confusion and disorder, and brother Joseph Anthony was in the greatest trepidation, fear ing that he could not spend another winter in Providence as a member of the Assem bly. The scene looked as if chaos was to prevail again; sometimes twenty brothers would be speaking at the same time, and no one could hear what was said. All were mad and corsed and swore and damned each other. The nominations were finally made, and the meeting broke up in the wildest confusion, almost every one feeling that the order had gone to grass. The presiding officer, brother Curtis, unmindful of his oath of secrecy, while wending his way generacy of the order, in a loud tone and had not been broken up into Wards. "these

Law man. We have detained our readers quite long enough, and leave them to re.

floct on Sam's harmonious proceedings .-

Brothers of the order, you know that the above is strictly true; yet scarcely half of the truth has been told.

1 It is said that at the Know Nothing meeting, on Saturday evening, a member from the Fifth Ward, who was very anxious to be nominated as a Representative, offered a resolution declaring that the American Revolution was shorn of a large part of its glury, from the fact that La Fayette and Kosciusko, two Irishmen, participated largely in it, and contributed materially to secure American Independence. The resolution was opposed, upon the ground that It was not properly worded, because these two men were Dutchmen and not Irishmen. It finally passed, by substituting Hindoos, instead of Irishmen.

IT A Democratic meeting was held at the State House Friday evening, Hon. William Beach Lawrence was chosen Chairman, and James Atkinson, Esq. Secretary. The meeting was addressed by the Han. Thomas Davis and Welcome B. Sayles, Esq. Most of their remarks were in regard to Know Nothingism. Mr. Sayles read an expose of the order, and explained the eath which the members take. A committee was appointed to nominate candidates for the Assembly.

The Know Nothings pretend to proloss that they do not admit any prominent politicians, or wire pullers, as they term them, into their order; and yet, in this city, there are a number of the most prominent politicians, of both parties, in the order.-Know Nothingism is the last and greatest humbug of the agr."

EFIt is remored that at the grand meeting of the Know Nothings, on Saturday evening, a resolution was passed declaring that the members would not read the Bible any more, because it was translated from foreign languages. They also resolved that they would not acknowledge Adam os their first ancuster, because he was not an

TE LET EVERY TRUE AND HON-ESTAVING VOTE FOR THE WHIG CANDIDATES FOR THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY, WHOSE NAMES STAND AT THE HEAD OF OUR COLUMNS THIS MORNING.

We place at the head of our colimns this morning the Whig Assembly ticket; the men are well known to the party, as having served them faithfully and well in their respective capacities. We ask of the voters of Newport, if they do not prefer to trust their interests in the hands of these experienced men, rather than to send to the Assembly men who are entirely inexperienced in regard to matter's of legislation? Let every reasonable man consider this matter well, and vote for men who have been tried and who know how to vote and act

The Whig who bolts from his party now, and refuses to vote for the regular Whig candidates, is recrear t to his former professions. He is unwertby of his name, and false to the loyal blood that coursed in his ancestral veius. If a Whig has joined the Know Nothings, he has made a bad mistake; if he has taken an oath to support their nominations, the cath is extra-judicial, and is punishable by law, and he is not bound by it. If he has made a pledge of honor, it was in a moment of wild excitement, and was consequently an unguarded pledge, and he is not bound by it. Whigs, whether Know Nothings or not, vot: the regular Whig ticket. Let every Whig thus vote.

Whigs of Newport, be true to your old party and its principles; your votes are wanted now. Will you sacrifice old, faithful, competent and tried members of the General Assembly, and vote for men who, although worthy in themselves, are entirely unfit for members of the Assembly at a time when it is proposed to change the delegation, and send men who are all

The trustees of the African Methodist Epistopal Church in this city, feel exceedingly anxious to complete their church building, commenced a year since and now exposed to decay. The importance of, gone place of worship sufficiently large to accornisodate the large number, of colored persons who collect here in the summer, is severely felt, and the proverty of the clurch obliges them to depend principally upon the geterowity of the public, for means to commence the work. They have an offer of a loan of 3500 hir that, purpose, provided they can realise a like amount in any other way, which ingularly will enable them to raise and cover the building, after which they expect to complete it without further: Aid, and as' rapidly as their means will allow.

With this view one of their number will call upon, our citizens to accertain what amount can be realized from other churches of the same denomination elsewhere, they hope to occupy it carly in the coming summer. No sums of more subscribed will be called for unless the whole intended that no money be paid unless receipted for by
